Tour Descriptions:

Tour 1: Bibliothèque nationale du Québec (Cost: free)
This is a tour of the new building being constructed for the Bibliothèque nationale du Québec, whose mandate is to collect, preserve and disseminate Quebec's published documentary heritage. Following its merger with the Grande bibliothèque du Québec, it will offer combined collections of four million volumes and will combine the services of a national library and a public library, accessible locally or from a distance. For more information, visit: http://www2.biblinat.gouv.qc.ca/en/qui_en/qui_present_en.htm and http://www2.biblinat.gouv.qc.ca/en/edifice_en/edif_photos_en.htm

There will be two tours, each able to accommodate a group of 20 people. Because space is limited, please register without delay if this tour interests you. Confirmation of enrollment will be sent by e-mail as soon as possible, along with instructions on where and when to meet, so that you may plan your travel accordingly. Tours last 50 minutes, beginning at 4:00 and 5:00, but attendees are asked to arrive 15 minutes beforehand. The BNQ's new building is located two blocks (1 Métro stop) from the conference hotel.

Tour 2: NFB CinéRobothèque (Cost: Cdn $5)
The CinéRobothèque is the National Film Board of Canada's computer-controled film-on-demand viewing facility. At the touch of a button, users browse the NFB's database to select the film they wish to see. A robot then opens one of the 2,340 drawers arranged around it in a horseshoe, takes out a videodisc, turns it over if necessary, places it in one of 50 videodisc players and, once the screening is over, puts it carefully away. For more information, visit: http://www.nfb.ca/e/addresses/cinerobotheque.html

There will be one tour, able to accommodate a group of 50 people. Because space is limited, please register without delay if this tour interests you. Confirmation of enrollment will be sent by e-mail as soon as possible, along with instructions on where and when to meet, so that you may plan your travel accordingly. The tour lasts two hours and begins at 3:00, but attendees are asked to meet in the conference hotel lobby at 2:30 or at the CinéRobothèque at 2:45. The conference tour leader will collect the Cdn $5 cash fee at the door. The CinéRobothèque is located three blocks (1 Métro stop) from the conference hotel.
